News Release

5th October 2007

Tarmac gives notice to acquire 50% of United Marine Holdings

Tarmac Ltd (Tarmac), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Anglo American plc, has given notice of the exercise of an option to acquire 50% of United Marine Holdings Ltd (UMH) from Hanson Quarry Products Europe Limited (Hanson), a subsidiary of HeidelbergCement AG. UMH is currently a 50/50 joint venture between Tarmac and Hanson, and the option, which is contained in the shareholders' agreement relating to UMH, relates to a change of control provision which Tarmac considers has been triggered by the acquisition of Hanson PLC by HeidelbergCement AG. Tarmac and Hanson are holding discussions that could lead to additional or alternative mutually beneficial arrangements in relation to UMH.

UMH is a marine aggregates business, operating dredging ships and loading wharves on and around the coasts of England and Wales. Its unaudited accounts for the year ending 31 December 2006 show 50% of net assets to be approximately £17m, 50% of gross assets to be approximately £29m, and 50% of operating profit to be approximately £5m. Completion of the transaction will result in Tarmac holding 100% of UMH.

The consideration, which under the terms of the shareholders' agreement is to be determined either by negotiation between Hanson and Tarmac, or by reporting accountants on the basis of the market value of the interest to be acquired, will be settled in cash, and is not expected to have a material impact on Anglo American plc.

The managing director of UMH is Kevin Seaman, who has held that position for 7 years.

Directorate Change

Ralph Alexander, who joined the board of Anglo American plc ("Anglo American") as a non-executive director in April 2005, has recently taken up a full-time appointment as a managing director of US-based, Riverstone Holdings LLC, a private equity firm specializing exclusively in the energy and power sectors. Consequently he has decided to step down as a non-executive director of Anglo American with effect from today.

Mr Alexander said: "My appointment to Riverstone is very much full-time time and I consequently felt that I would not be able to devote as much time and energy to the affairs of Anglo American as required and, with regret, I have therefore tendered my resignation. I have greatly enjoyed my time at Anglo American and wish the company all the best for the future."

Sir Mark Moody-Stuart, Chairman of Anglo American, said: " We very much regret that Ralph is leaving us and thank him for his insightful contribution to the affairs of the Anglo Group since he joined us."
